A Word About This Exhibition

It is a great pleasure to present this juried exhibition and catalog of the selected works. We are pleased to offer four cash awards. In 2008 we lost our beloved member and former president, Sharon Tietjen, to cancer. Her daughter generously donated Sharon's entire studio of art supplies to our CPSA Chapter. Sheila Theodoratos, our president at the time, suggested we sell the items and use those funds as awards in Sharon's honor. We did just that and in 2008 provided an award to both the International CPSA Exhibition and the CPSA Explore This! Exhibition. We reserved a portion of funds for this celebration of our Twentieth Anniversary and in thankfulness for having people like Sharon Tietjen in our lives.

Thanks to the many people who have worked on this exhibition: Ranjini Venkatachari, my very able co-chair; Adrienne Anderson-Smith, Keith Artz, Susan Cottman, Kay Dewar, Mary Foote, Bobbie Hamilton, Susan Jones, Heidi Lindberg, Kathy McLean, Carol Miller, Paula Parks, Jennie Rogers, Iris Stripling, Sheila Theodoratos, Eileen Sorg and all additional volunteers.

Special thanks to Larry Jeffers of Semantics Gallery for hosting the exhibition and doing the initial jurying of pieces for inclusion in the show, and to Elizabeth Kincaid for judging for awards.

Pamela Belcher, President, Seattle DC 207

Awards Juror Elizabeth Kincaid

Elizabeth Kincaid is the author of Paint Watercolors That Dance With Light, now selling its second printing with North Light Press. She is originally from Seattle and lived in Philadelphia area before moving west. Soquel, California became her home and workplace for ten years. Elizabeth has recently returned to the Pacific Northwest, and now teaches from her home classroom in Kirkland, Washington.

Elizabeth has a BFA in Graphic Design from the University of Washington and worked for a number of years in that field. She studied figure drawing and painting with William Cumming at Cornish School of Allied Arts. She was a graphic designer for a community college in Seattle and did freelance illustration. She has taught watercolor privately in the Northwest, the Philadelphia area, and California for many years. In addition to watercolor, Elizabeth has been working for the past decade in colored pencil. She enjoys achieving the full saturation of color and feeling for light that she is known for with her watercolors. Her colored pencil work explores different subject matters, as well as abstraction. As Elizabeth says, "My true credentials come from the broad based education I have, and because of that my book teaches more than just how to paint a watercolor."

COLORED PENCIL SOCIETY of AMERICA

The Colored Pencil Society of America (CPSA) is a nonprofit organization for colored pencil enthusiasts working to promote colored pencil as a fine art medium by sponsoring exhibitions and workshops, being involved in product research, and educating the public in general. The organization is managed by a governing board of 12 volunteers.

Because the interaction of members at the local level helps to attain those goals, CPSA decided to build a strong network of local chapters to benefit individual members as well as the society as a whole. CPSA serves as the legal entity under which these local chapters operate. CPSA is able to provide credibility for the entire organization and all colored pencil artists on a broader scale, gain attention for colored pencil art in major art magazines, present the annual convention and exhibition in different parts of the country, and encourage manufacturers to produce better products.

Each district chapter is a self-governing group of CPSA members that operates to promote colored pencil art within its own area. By promoting camaraderie and education locally, the chapters provide additional opportunities for their members and help CPSA by attracting new members. CPSA members are free to join one or more of almost 30 District Chapters around the country.

Although CPSA and the District Chapters offer some of the same services (exhibitions, workshops, etc.), they operate at different levels. The focus of CPSA is on the entire membership and the art public at large. The District Chapters, on the other hand, focus on members and events in their local areas.
